Our Mission: Through community organizing, mobilizing and education, Boulder's chapter of Showing Up for Racial Justice moves white people to action for justice with passion and accountability. BSURJ engages communities by fostering relationships and skills and leveraging cultural and political analysis in an effort to build an anti-racist movement.

Five Easy Actions for Racial Justice

1. STOP BANNON!

As you may already be aware, Donald Trump has named a white supremacist, anti-semitic, misogynist as his chief strategist. Take Action and call Senator Senator Cory Gardner (303) 391-5777 and urge him, as your representative, to take a stand against this appointment. Please also sign this petition but resist the temptation to only sign this petition: <https://www.splcenter.org/stephen-bannon-has-no-business-white-house>

Feeling ambitious? Call the following Republican Senators to urge them to commit, in a bipartisan effort, to rejecting all of Trump's cabinet appointments until he agrees to fire Bannon AND Sessions. Susan Collins, Lisa Murkowski, Mark Kirk, Lindsey Graham, John McCain, Rand Paul, Dean Heller

2. PARTICIPATE in the INJUSTICE BOYCOTT

Shaun King is organizing a national boycott, the details of which will be announced on December 5th. Commit to joining the boycott and receive updates here: <http://www.injusticeboycott.com>

3. DONATE to PEOPLE OF COLOR-LED ORGANIZATIONS

Some local orgs: Barrio E' Centro, SOL/BSEEDZ, Denver Justice Project, 9 to 5, Black Lives Matter 5280

A few national orgs: Black Lives Matter Network, Indigenous Environmental Network, Cosecha, National Domestic Workers Alliance, Ella Baker Center for Human Rights, Southern Poverty Law Center, Black Alliance for Just Immigration, Southerners on New Ground

4. Call the Whitehouse to STOP the DAPL

Call on your current president to immediately intervene and stop the Dakota Access Pipeline and stop militarized police attacks on indigenous people and their allies protecting the water. Ask him to designate Standing Rock Reservation a National Monument.

(202) 456-1111

5. Commit to Continuous Self-Education
